

About us

Aspid provides professional custom software development solutions. We have been developing all sorts of Windows desktop software for the past 9 years. If you need a Windows application developed look no further.

Our Mission

Aspid has earned the respect of our competitors, the loyalty and commitment of our dealers, and a "preferred supplier" status among our clients and customers, because of our unwavering commitment to quality, value, professionalism and service

Our Services

We develop affordable quality Windows applications that are specifically designed for different vertical markets. The unique Aspid approach to development will ensure that your application is developed on time and on budget. See our services page.

Our Profile

We are IT professionals providing software development services. Our costs are 2-3 times less than if we were physically present in the USA or Europe - there is a considerable profit margin for you to exploit. We do have a number of people already doing projects in this manner. We have been successful with our products and consulting because our vision, our approach and our corporate culture are centered on our clients, customers and our products success.

Aspid is successful people, a team of some of the finest professionals in the Information Systems and Consulting business. Aspid people are competent, energetic, and highly motivated individuals. They work in unison with each other and our clients and customers, to deliver sound, reliable Information Systems Technology solutions.
